WHITE AS SNOW

My robes were once all stained with

I beau not how to make them clean Until a voice said, sweet and low, "Go wash, I'll make them white as snow."

And He has made them white as I've washed my Yobes in Jesus

That promise, "Whosoever will," Included me—includes me still; I came, and ever since I know, His Blood it cleanses white as snow

THINE, I AM!

Tunes.—Rousseau, 89: Jesus, Lover of my soul, 84; S. B., 453. of my soul, 84; S. B., 453.

If so poor a soul as I
May to Thy great glory live,
All my actions sanctify,
All my words and thoughts receive; Claim me for th service, claim, All I have and all I am.

Now, my God, Thine own I am, Now I give Thee back Thine own, Freedom, friends, and health, and tame

Consecrate to Thee alone;
Thine I live, thrice happy I,
For souls to fight, for Christ to die.

SHOWERS OF BLESSING

Tune.-There shall be showers, etc. "There shall be showers of blessing," This is the promise of love;
There shall be seasons refreshing
Sent from the Saviour above.

Chorus
Showers of blessing, showers of blessing we need,

"There shall be showers of blessing," Precious reviving again;
Over the hills and the valleys,
Sornds of abundance of rain,

"There shall be showers of blessing,"
Oh, that to-day they might fall,
Now as to God we're confessing, Now as on Jesus we call.

WON BACK HIS STRIPES

A remarkable story of nerve-recovery and a resultant Act of Parliament was told by a British professor recently in London, Eng. A sergeant in the Expeditionary Force lost his nerve and ran away. He was tried by court-martial, and sentenced to five years' penal servi-tude. But in the interval between the sentence and its confirmation the famous attempt of the Prussian the lamous attempt of the Prussian Guard to break through our line was made, and every available man was rushed in jin support of the British. They included the prisoner's guard, and the prisoner, of course, followed suit.

lowed suit.

He had recovered his nerve, and not only fought well, but performed an act which in ordinary circumstances would certainly have brought him a medal for gallant conduct, and probably the Victoria Cross. As a result, the man's sentence was quashed, the record expunged, and the got back his stripes and the conductive of the

I now want to show more executly what position should be given her in The Army, and what work ought to be expected at her hands.

Salvation Heroism

I am sure you will agree with me as to the value of the part she has played in the past years of our hisfory. You all know something of the Salvation beroism she has displayed. She has descended into the foulest slums of the great cities. She has sought out and raised the worst of her own sex. She has fought and conquered the roughest, coarsest and wildest of men. She has lived amongst the most ignorant and the most savage tribes of the heathen, She has nursed the sick and blessed the dvings and with words of mercy on her lips she has gone down with them in the great waters

TWO GREAT SERVICES IN DOMINION THEATRE

Western Canada's Welcome to New Leaders and Headquarters Staff

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

THE welcome of Canada West to its new Leaders Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton, reached high-water level for crowds, enthusiasm, Civie and Governmental representatives, and Salvationists. There was an avowed absence of ceremonial, and the plain, severe walls of the Scandinavian Citadel (Winnings) in which the Officers and Locals gatherings were convened, emphasized this aspect: an arrangement that just suited the mind of the West, where the spirit of democracy that prevails carries out a levelling process that is unknown in older lands. Surely nothing could have exceeded the whole-heartedness with which the Officers and Locals received The General's representative (Commissioner Lamb) and it was a moment of supreme spiritual fervour when the International Secretary-evidently much moved-presented to the Officers assembled: "A man whose heart God had touched"

If cheers, spontaneous unrisings, waying of handkerchiefs, outbursts of music hearty Amens! and Halleluighs! count for anything, then the meetings were not lacking in the "ecremonials" so dear to the heart of Salvationists

From the public standpoint, the event of the Campaign was the Sunday afternoon's meeting in the Dominion Theatre. The fact that it was mid-July weather caused some misgivings as to the success of a representaplatform and the crowds, but from all points of view-spirit, crowds, and platform-everything was all that could be desired.

Mayor Waugh presided and tendered a very cordial civic welcome: while the Hon. Edward Brown, on behalf of the Provincial Government, gave the new Leaders a very warm welcome, and expressed high appreciation of the work of The Army. Controller Cockburn, when asking the International Secretary to convey to The General Winnings's appreciation of The Army's Work, also congratulated The Army on the wisdom shown the creation of a new Territory.

Commissioner Lamb's induction charge to Commissioner and Mrs. Sowlon, Lieut.-Colouel and Mrs. Turner, Major Dobney, and Ensign Pugmire, thrilled the entire audience. The Commissioner manifestly did not strive for effect, but his simple, graphic language stirred the souls of his hearers, and the Hon. E. The Scandinavian Hall was packed The Scandinavian Hall was packed for the night session, when the audience was reinforced by a goble band of Winnipey's Local Officers. The heat only incussined the enthu-siam, and when Brigadier McLean steppled to the rail, and gave out the first song, everyone settled down to business. "We'll all shout Halleling first song, everyone settled down to business. "We'll all shout Hallelu-jah," led by the Citadel Band, was a suitable beginning, after which the Divisional Commander, in a few, hearty words, presented Commis-sioner Lamb to the Local Officers. The applause over, the Commisone was to speak a word of welcome to the new Leaders until they had seen a sample of the material, and Lieut-Colonel Turner and Mrs mmissioner Sowton were the first speakers.

The Oshawa Band and Songsters The Oshawa Band and Songsters recently gave a service at the Boy Scouts Camp at the invitation of Mr. W. F. Eaton. The Oshawa "Free Press" says: "The singing and music was fine, and listened to attentively by the brigade, and a large gathering of interested friends. At the close of the services the Band Scouts presented a soldier-like pro-cession." Bandsman De Guerre has left for the front, being the third member of the Band to enlist. He is in the ambulance brigade of the P. W. O. Rifles, from Kingston.

July 1st was a very busy day for the Guelph Band. In the afternoon the Guelph Band. In the afternoon we gave a two-hours' programme at the Riverside Park, where crowds of people bad gathered together to spend the day. Prominently amongst them could be seen hundreds of Royal Templars, who had come from different parts of Ontario to spend different parts of Ontario to spend their annual pienie, and they were greatly delighted with The Army music. After the programme was over, we went to Alma about eight-een miles from Guelph, to give a musical festival for the Methodist musical festival for the Methodist Church Garden Party. Two autos and one auto truck was filled with Bandsmen. Ensign and Mrs. Bun-ton, and Miss Adby from Hamilton, accompanied the party.

The truck left half an hour ahead The truck lett half an hour ahead of the auto, but, being pretty well loaded, was soon passed by the other two autos and left behind, and then something went wrong with their something went wrong with their engine, and the driver, not willing to lose any time, kept the car going

THE appointment of Ensign aneial Department of Canada West hears out the state-West bears out the state-ment once made by a pro-minent London gentleman that a Headquarters of The Salvation Army is the finest training ground a young: man could desire, if he aimed at gaining a thorough business educa-tion. It also demonstrates the fact that the Leaders of The Army are quite willing to place comparatively quite willing to place comparatively young Officers in positions of great responsibility provided they take the pains to qualify themselves for such positions, and at the same time manifest the true Army spirit.

The trouble with a good many people is that their ambitions are much greater than their abilities, and, instead of recognizing this and getting down to some good, hard work at improving themselves, they waste their time gruml-ling at their hard linek. The fact is there is alhard lick. The fact is, there is al-ways room at the top for men and women of real ability and devotion, and the eyes of Headquarters are always running to and fro over the earth in search of those who can render the best service. When, therefore, through the creation of the new Canada Wost

In reviewing the Ensign's career, we might well say that his whole we might well say that his whole life has been a training for the position he is now called to occupy. Good influences have surrounded him from his infancy. In the first place, he had the inestimable privilege of having Salvationist parents, whose highest ambition for their whose highest ambition for their firsthorn was that he might follow in their footsteps. Ever since the time he could intelligently grasp the meaning of words, Ernest remem-bers his father's earnest prayers on-his behalf, and his mother's wise and gentle counsels. They took a firm hold of his young mind, they wove themselves into his heart and life, and, unconsciously, shaped his fu-

Thereupon Staff-Cantain Easton was asked to give him an hour's in-struction in the art of phonography every day until he became proficient

The Colonel also took great pains to fire the lad with a proper ambi-tion, and on many occasions had a serious talk to him, pointing out his serious talk to him, pointing out his faults in a kind way and suggesting how he could overcome them. Enst woke up to the fact that there was a splendid future before him in The Salvation Army if he would only apply himself diligently to selfimprovement and master something that would make him of use. He started to attend night school in order to obtain a general business training, and burned much midnight oil in his various studies. In the years that followed—the Man's devices for the bringing about of his physical comfort and convenience have increased the ongines of his own destruction a hundred-fold. To eross the ocean at. will he has made ships, which like the Titanic and Empress drag thousands of his kind to their doors. To cross the mountains and deserts of a continent man has constructed railway trains, which, at times, turn and rend him to pieces; to ascend or descend mountain paths he has constructed trolleys, which harl him to his death

We have been led into this train We have been led into this train of thought by the recent terrible accident at Queenston Heights, when a trolley got out of hand, and caused the death of fifteen persons caused the death of fitteen persons and severely injured a great many others. ### By The General

HE widespread and cosmopolitan character of our Work has been brought home to me in a striking were the onet four days Progress is marked upon many, if not all, of these diverse activities. The new Command in Canada West; the appointment of Officers from India to raise our Flag in Burma; the taling over of another Lener Settle. ment in Sumatra: the remarkable opening presented to us to commence work in Moscow; the suceess of our new venture in Social Work in Rome: and the dispatch of an Officer of my Staff to undertake relief work in our name in Serbia, are among the events which point in the direction of advance.

In other ways also the wonderful variety of interest embraced by The Army is brought before me. Amidst the secthing turmoil caused by the War in Europe, and notwithstanding the pressing claims of all kinds which are resting on the various peoples, searcely as week passes which does not witness the denarture of little groups of Salvationists, first from one country and then from another, on their way to the far-off lands to which for Christ's cake they have consecrated their lives Now it is from Sweden or Norway for India; now from Holland for Java: now from England or Scotland for Japan or Korea or Ceylon. To these might be added a list of such transfers of soul-loving bearts as from Switzerland to Italy, from Finland to Russia, from Holland to Belgium. In spite of all the horrors and hatreds of these terrible months, it rejoices my heart to watch the growth of the true Missionary spirit within our borders.

And our very needs draw attention to the same thing. Take, for example, some of the special claims which have in one form or other come before me during the last week or so. Medical men are most urgently needed for our Hospital Work, especially in India and the East generally. Officers for extension of purely Spiritual work are required to seize the wonderful opportunities open to us in certain parts of the Dutch Indies; others for South Africa; others for Training Work in several countries; others for nioneer work in China others for Staff work and oversight in India; and others again for Corps work, for the care of the Young People, for the Social Operations in the United Kingdom. Money is asked for Schools and Training Homes, especially in parts of Asia and Africa; for the development of purely Missionary enterprise, particularly in East and Central Africa, in India, and in Manchuria; for the extension of Industrial Education in the Madras Presidency and in the Punjab; for the pressing on of the new effort for Boys and Youths, and for other developments in the United Kingdom.

Then, again, the War has also revealed and emphasized this aspect of Salvation Army life. It ltas called fortlt a remarkable group of special measures for the good of the men. The following names of Sections of that work will give some idea of what is going on, although not by any means a complete one, for some of these sections include a number of different agencies: The Meetings and Meeting-places in the Campsthe Temperance Canteens - the Clubs - the Naval and Military League and Institutions-the Work in the Colonial Camps under Chaplains who are Salvation Army Officers (this applies particularly to Canada, Australia, New Zealand and Egypt)-our Ambulances in France -Visitations of Hospitals for both French, English, and German wounded (a particularly fruitful work)-Care of Friends Visiting their Wounded in the North of France-Bureau for searching for Lost and Missing Combatants Rel gian Relief Work-both in Belgium, England, and Holland - Literature for Fleets and Army, and I am already devising and considering schemes for helping those who will need help when the war is over. In all the Nations involved we shall have to face some new and huge and difficult problems,

This week I am issuing to our friends a brief sketch of some of these operations, entitled, "Decds of Love and Courage," together with statements of Headquarters'accounts and an appeal for funds to enable me to carry them on. I am deenly grateful for the generous aid I have received from our friends during the last six months-it is a wonderful story of God's goodness-and I believe that again now I shall not appeal in vain. I am convinced that our work for God and for the Nation has only to be better known to be more and more widely trusted and helped forward. In the pamplilet to which I have just referred are to be found some delightful incidents illustrating not only what is being done, but the spirit in which it is being done. The writer, in a striking paragraph, says:-

"'Mrs. Sowton, how would you ask for money to support and extend The Salvation Army Missionary labours?"

"She thought a moment. I think I should say: If you can see, you would give. If you could see the heathen people, and particularly the lovely children, now growing up nuder good influences, to whom The Army has carried the Gospel; if you could see from what human roots of idolatry and devil-worship they have sprung; if you could see the miracle Christ alone has wrought in them, you would give, not what you could easily give, but what (Concluded on Page 15.)

Ensign Martin was at St. Mary's for the week-end of July 4th, and delivered his lecture on Canada, This was much enjoyed by all. Pennant Day has come and gone, but it has been the means of giving our Corps a great help-up. We had an indebt-edness of about two hundred and edness of about two hundred and fity dollars here, and Ensign Mar-tin, who has been in charge of the raising of the money on this pro-perty, figured out a plan which he surmised would do much towards raising this amount,

-and the date of Pennant Day was fixed for July 4th. The rain in the morning hindered the work a good deal, but during the afternoon and night things picked up wonderfully. The Officers from Stratford kindly came over and looked after the needs of the inner man, and they must be congratulated on the spreads they prepared.

When the returns were counted. we found that one hundred and sixty-eight dollars and ten cents had been raised, which clears the debt on the seating, and the furnishing of the Officers' Quarters. We certainly thank Ensign Martin for all his ly thank Ensign Martin for all his interest in our Corps, as also we thank the ladies who came to our help and worked so hard all day. -Captain Ashby.

BREWER BROWN LECTURES

The week-end meetings, July 4th, at Oshawa, were conducted by Envoy Brewer Brown. The subject of the Sinday morning meeting was "True Patriotism," and the Envoy sent home a few good shots about our loyalty to God and The Army.

We have had two real, good open-ir meetings on Saturday nights at Whitby, about four miles from Ishawa. The Band led one week and the Candidates the other. It is the earnest desire of the comrades of Oshawa that God's work should go forward, and we are doing all we can under the leadership of Adju-tant and Mrs. Ritchic lo extend God's Kingdom.—Sis. E. #### SATURDAY NIGHT'S MEETING

A splendid crowd of Officers, Soldiers, and friends gathered in the Winnipeg I. Citadel on Saturday winnings I. Citadel on Saturday evening, July toth, to welcome the new Territorial Leaders. It was a joyous occasion, and the pent-up joyous occasion, and the pent-up enthusiasm of every heart burst forth as Commissioner Lamb and the new Territorial Leaders appeared upon the platform—the entire audience rising, and volley after vol-Iev resounding through the build-

Staff-Captain Peacock led the gathering to the Throne in prayer, "Our hearis are very thank-ful, and we do indeed say 'Hallelu-jah'?" prayed the Staff-Captain, and every heart responded "Amen!"

After a brief introductory talk by Commissioner Lamb, and a few minutes of bright testimony and song, in which an opportunity was given for a number of comrades in the audience to bear testimony and express their welcome to the Comexpress their welcome to the Com-missioners, the International Seeretary presented Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton to those present.

"The General's gift to the West, and they are your very own," said Commissioner Lamb, and the magnificent recention which the Com missioners received evidenced the fact that not only was The General's gift to the West fully appreciated, but that already Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton had won their way. into the hearts of those present.

"Ever since we have set foot in "Ever since we have set root in Winnipeg," said Mrs. Sowton, "it has been 'Welcome!' and 'God bless you!' on every hand. The Soldiers are the key of the situation, and we have come here to lead you on. You can help us by your co-operation.

Commissioner Sowton stated that this was his third visit to Winnipeg. "This time we have come to stay, thank God," said the Commissioner, amidst hearty applause,

N Tuesday last (says the Toxonto "Star Weekly") The Salvation Army's Fresh Air Fairyland at Clarksons opened for the season, and the grown-ups are dizzy yet. The big farm on the lake shore, surrounded with trees, howers, and raspberry patches, to say nothing of apple trees, was inundated with boys and girls from the city. There, were 37 boys and 39 girls, all anywhere from six months to twelve years, but most of them between eight and twelve. of them between eight and twelve. The geweig gathered from the dusticast and firedest part, of Toronto's asphalt, and their very souls were thirsty for Mother Nature.

They didn't quite put it that way, of course. Expressed in chorus their opinion was "Gee!" After which, twenty minutes from their arrival at the Clarkson station and the giddy hrown country road, they were all in paddling. They just naturally took to that big blue lake like so many ducklings to water. It was dinner time and the anxious volun-teer cooks, seeing their art about to he spoiled by waiting, issued orders for the recall of the ducklings,

If the unanimity manifested throughout the whole day's Coun-ells can be accepted as an indication of the spirit in which the inaugura-tion of the West as a separate Command is received by the Officers, Locals, and Soldiers, then there need be no misgivings as to the success of the venture. In all the years of my connection with The Salvation Army, I have never witnessed a more sincere and unanimous wel-come than was extended to Com-missioner and Mrs. Sowton, Lieut.olonel and Mrs. Turner, and the other announced members of the Territorial Staff . If "Unity - is strength, then the perpetuation of the spirit that prevailed is all that is required to ensure the development of this Western Territorial "baby"

PERSONAL LIBERTY

A Brave Deed After the Foretop of the Inflexible was Hit During the Dardanelles Operations

Just after the forcup of the Inflexible was hit by a Turkish shell during the Dardanelles operations, it was found to be a matter of great difficulty to get the wounded from their elevated position. Projectiles were whistling all round when an A.B. was observed to he carrying a wounded commaden in his back; step by step, down the rangs attached to the leg of the tripod. This act was repeated by another A.B., who, in a similar lashion, carried a comrade down to sairey. The task of climing into a control top is never a very easy not, owing to the state of the smoke from the funnels of the battleship, which in certain winds envelop "these unone portions of the tripod. Just after the foretop of the Inflexible was hit by a Turkish shell these upper portions of the tripod.

I recall that in late life my father was troubled with indigestion. He was ordered by his physician to a milk diet for breakfast, and he was not able to retain it in its natural state. He was obliged to dilute it with water. He could fill his glass half full of milk and fill it up with water, It agreed with his stomach and he It agreed with his stomach and he grew to like it that way. That was his personal liberty at his own table. No law would invade his home and dietate to him bow he should drink

"But let us suppose that he was your milkman, and he decided that what was good for his stomach was good for his customers, and on the way to your house he stopped at the pump and filled up the can? The milk-inspector would seize the whole carge, dump it into the sewer, and railroad him to jail."

HARD TRAINING

THE training of the Italian soldier is a more severe one than that of any soldier in Europe. His day begins at 4,30 cm, and drill and routine continue, with a two-hour hreak of "compulsory repose" until 5 nm. After that he has four hours' JEPERANCE lecture: is p.m. After that he has low industries in the state of the sta

"silenzio," He is extremely, well cared for by the authorities, but the long marches are reckoned among the essentials of this training, and some regiments can cover sixty miles at five miles an hour, and consider it nothing remarkable.

Query: Is it not a poor cause and one in hard straits that can find no better advocate than a discredited and discarded ex-preacher?

PEACE CENTENARY CELE-BRATIONS

THE plans for a great celebration of the hundred years of peace between the British Empire and the United States were, unfortu-

WS NOTES and COMMENTS nately, very much upset by the outbreak of the war last year. Those in charge of the movement, however, decided not to abandon the programme altogether, and so a greatly-modified celebration took place on February, 1915, the centenary of the ratification of the famous Teary of Ghent.

That aspect of the plans which contemplated public rejoieing has had to be postponed, but those por-vitions—the larger portions, it should be said—of the plans, which laid emphasis on education and on the cultivation of a reasonable frame of mind in the conduct of international re-lations are being prosecuted.

The public rejoicings are only postponed, and the organizations ormed to carry out the commemformed to carry out the commen-oration were encouraged to con-tinue their work of preparation and education, so that when the war is over and victory has crowned the British and allied forces, fitting fes-tivities might be held. These festi-vities are likely to be all the more impressive in view of the fact that impressive in view of the fact that we shall be celebrating not only the conclusion of a century of peace with our neighbours, but the over-throw of those forces which have, for so many years, menaced the peace of the whole world.

The public eclebrations of this triumph of reasonableness and goodwill should be one of the earligoodwin should be one of the earli-cst events after the conclusion of the present dreadful struggle. The Canadian Peace Centenary Asso-ciation, and its corresponding body in the United States, the American Peace Centenbry Committee, have made all the necessary preparations and it is to be hoped that their work will be crowned with success.

STRANGE BURIAL SERVICE THE burial service among the Andaman Islanders is strange indeed! It is the custom of the parents into the sea at the end of ropes and leave them there until nothing remains but the bones, which they then gather and hang from the roots of their huts. It is a common custom for a relative to sit by the hour and watch the hones of some relative. This is the way they have of showing their love and respect Bodies are treated in this fashion so that the evil spirits cannot tease and pinch them. All that is left are the dried bones, and these are placed high so that if the evil spirits ed high so that it the evil spirits wander into the huts they will have a hard time to find them. If a bone is earried away, it is said that a bad spirit has scized it, and this means that some terrible calamity will be some terrible calamity will befall the family.

"What, squatting down again!" she called out angrily. "No wonder the work piles up in this place. The lazy, good-for-nothing sluts the missus has taken on lately fairly make me sick."

"This is the first time I have sat down this morning," said Elsie, "and as I have done all you told me to, and am very tired, I don't see why I shouldn't rest a minute or two."

"Oh, so you're another of the impudent ones, are you?" retorted the quarter of an hour with the missus and meant to take it out on someone else, "You haven't done half your work yet, young woman, let me tell you," she continued. "Look at all you, she continued. Look at all those dirty pans in the corner. Get up and go and serape them out and then wash them perfectly clean. I don't stand for no loafing around here. You'll have to earn your

But Elsie wasn't going to be sat-on like that, "Here, you just mind who you're talking to," she retorted. "I've put up with all I'm going to from you. If you want those dirty old pans scraped you can do 'em yourself. I'm through with this mucky old job if I have to like orders from an old crank like you."

And throwing off her apron she walked out of the kitchen. Seeking out the mistress Elsie told her about what happened.

"Oh, dear! oh, dear!" said the woman. "I can never keep a girl five minutes on account of cook's five minutes on account of cook's overbearing manner. Try and put up with her for to-day, for I have me one cles to do the washing up," "Vell, you must tell her not to interfere with me any more, then," said Elsie. "I'm willing to work, but

NOTES AND REFLECTIONS

(Continued from Page 8.) would even hart you to give. Here, in the children and young people, is the future of the East and the remote portions of the world, the world that grows smaller and nearer by inventions every week, and the neople who will presently induced the world to a greater extent. Why should you not help to save soils now? There is no use in the grare for any money or possessions. Here is a living investment that will never cease to return blessings."

In a short "Foreword" to the little book I have set down some of the Reflections which have occurred to me when reading it. I venture to quote from one of them a word or two hearing on the character of the Workers of The Army-those who. day by day, at home or in the distant lamls, carry on its great and noble endeavour for Christ often added without much earthly cheer or reward. It is for their support I need

These humble followers of Jesus "These humble tollowers of Jesus Christ are, either consciously or un-consciously, setting Him forth again in the most practical aspects consciously, setting Him forth again in the most practical aspects of His character. He was Heaven's great foreign Missioner—He was mankind's rypical Neighbour, seeking the wounded and binding up their wounds—He was the Messen-their wounds—He was the Messen-ger of all that related to merey and sympathy in the nature of God... "Well, it seems to me that the slight stories of love and devotion recorded in this small volume set forth the Salvationists concerned as forth the Salvationists concerned as heing on the same pauls as their Master. They also have "gone out" to the heathen and those afar off. That is the very essence of the missionary spirit. They have come down and left all, to help the broken and forgotten in life's hattle, as true Neighbours.

"It is not, I claim, a small thing that amidst the hurly-burly of this day such a practical witness is borne to the practical sympathy of our

When writing thus I desire also to ask the friends of The Army to remember us in prayer. It is surely not necessary to be a Salvationist in order to realize what an enormous burden it all involves upon me, upon Mrs. Booth, and muon our immediate helpers. The care of God's Work is the greatest of all cares. and only in God's strength can we earry it. Please, therefore, let the readers of these lines intercede for us, that we may have wisdom and conrage, and that the larger material needs of The Army may also be

TIS NOT EXHAUSTED YET!

There.—I am happy all the day, 196.
There are folk who seem unhappy
it as they tread the narrow way,
And their custom is to worry and

Better think of all the blessines poured upon us every day,

And the grace of God is not exhausted yet.

It is not exhausted yet! No, 'tis not exhausted vet! exhausted yet!

Jesus' wondrous grace is not exhausted yet!

'Tis the power which extricated us
When fast in Satan's net,

Hallelujah! It is not exhausted yet l

There are trials and temptations while we sojourn here below, But we triumph when with courage they are met;

Let us then in faith press onward,
bravely facing every foe,
For the grace of God is not exhausted vet.

When dark clouds around us hover, how He brightens up the way, Speaking peace to those whose minds on Him are set; And He never will forsake us, come or go whatever may,

For the grace of God is not exhausted yet.

TRIM YOUR LAMP!

Tunes .- I will follow Thee, 144; Tunes.—I will follow Thee, 144;
This is why I love, 159.
Brightly beams our Father's mercy
My life and my all Thou shalt have, From His lighthouse evermore; But to us He gives the keeping Of the lights along the shore.

Chorus
Let the lower lights be burning!

Dark the night of sin has settled, Loud the angry billows roar; Eager eyes are watching, longing, For the lights along the shore.

Trim your feeble lamb, my brother, Some poor scaman, tempesttossed.

Trying now to make the harbour, In the darkness may be lost,

ALL FOR THEE Tune,-N. B. B., 206.

Tune.—N. B. B., 200,
Thine forever, Jesus,
Every hour I live;
All my hody, spirit, soul,
Now to Thee I give.
Every beating pulse of mine,
Every feeting breath,
All for Thee, my Jesus,
Thine I'll be till death.

Chorus All for Thee, Lord Jesus,
Every breath, life or death;
All for Thee, Lord Jesus, All I speak or do.

'Let me be Thy mouthpiece,

Warning men of hell i

'Let me all Thy wondrous love,

To poor sinners tell.

All the talents I have got,

Though they be but small,

For Thy blessed service,

Help me use them all.

A SOLDIER I WILL BE Tunes.-Hark! listen to the, 35; Ellacombe, 30,

Hark! listen to the trumpeters,
They sound for volunteers,
Gn Zion's bright and flowery mount,

With arrow and bow they stand.

Enlisting soldiers for their King, To march to Canaan's land.

It sets my heart all in a flame,

A soldler I will be;
I will enlist—gird on my arms,
And fight for liberty.
They want no cowards in their band,
Who will their colours fly;
But call for valiant-hearted men, Who're not afraid to die.

TWAS JESUS! Tune.-He gave me joy, Who, when sunk in deep despair, Did His liberty deelare, Welcomed me His home to share? .'Twas | Iesus!

Chorne

He gave me joy where once was woe, Who when in the darkest night Who, when in the darkest night, Shed around me rays of light, Healed my blindness, gave me sight? 'Twas Jesus!

Who, 'mid all my toil and care, Helps me every grief to bear, Keeps me happy everywhere? 'Tis Jesus!

I'LL TELL OF THY DYING

Tune-When you and I were young,

I'm thinking to-day of Thy love, Jesus,
The love so freely given;
Of bow Thou didst come from above, Jesus,

To bring us home to Heaven.
Thy coming to seek and to save,

Jesus, I'll tell of Thy dying for me.

Charne Chorus
I'll tell of Thy dying for me. Jesus.
I'll tell of Thy dying for me.
How Thy Blood Thou didst shed for my sin, Jesus,
I'll tell of Thy dying for me,

I'm thinking to-day of the Cross,

I'm thinking to-day of the Cross,
Jesus,
The Cross and Calv'ry's hill.
Of how Thou didst drink of the cup, Jesus,
The cup our sins cid fill,
Of how Thou didst die in our stead,
I-action of the company of the cross of the cross, and the cross of the cross, and the cross of the cross, and the cross, and the cross of the

Jesus,
Oh, how could such love ever be.
I'll tell of the bloo! Thou didst shed, Jesus,
I'll tell of Thy dying for me.

I'm thinking to-day of the world.

Jesus,
The world Thou dist love so well;
The world that has gone far astray,

Jesus, Oh! help me Thy love to tell.

Oh! help me 1 hy love to ten.
With sadness and sin all around,
Jesus,
Oh! use me, dear Lord, even me;
To tell how Thy grace doth abound,

To tell now in grace com accurai Jesus,
To tell-tof Thy dying for me.
